

THE FUTURE OF THE NEXT GENERATION

The aim of this project is to require a class in high school for students to take that talks about consent and to go in to details with the matter . This class will be required for students once they enter the eleventh grade. The board of education of Arkansas would be in control of who will teach the class and what is expected of them.

This research is based on statistics that deal with the matter of what consent is and the result of what happens if it is not given. The purpose of this research is to limit the amount of sexual assaults, rape, and anything that is involved with consent. It is to inform students on what is right from wrong in case they were not taught before they leave high school and understand the true meaning behind every action.
