

GUN VIOLENCE IN THE U.S.

Reasons for owning guns
Most of people have guns
in order to protect themselves.

Gun violence is one of the controversial issues In the United States. People need to consider about gun violence.

However, gun-related homicide happen a lot in the United States because this country is one of the big gun societies. This country cannot get out the vicious circle unless having guns is prohibited.

Many cases which your children use gun accidentally have been reported. In 2020, there have been unintentional shootings by over 220 children. People have to think about gun safety.