

Effects of Covid-19 on College Students

03

Nonwhite students were 70 percent more likely to change their majors due to the pandemic compared to their white peers, and first-generation students were 50 percent more likely to delay graduation than students who have college-educated parents.

04

From March to May 2020, a higher proportion of students reported that their mental health negatively impacted their academic performance.

